KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 30.—"Jimmy" Ryan, of Cincinnati, after conceding eight pounds in weight to "Paddy" Purtell, of Kansas City, was knocked out by Purtell in the sixth round this afternoon. The battle occurred just across the Kansas line, at a point twenty miles southwest of this city. The men had signed to fight to a finish at welter weights, Ryan weighing in at 145, but Purtell was eight pounds over. After a long wrangle the Cincinnati boy conceded the weight. Both men were fit as they entered the ring.

Purtell was on the offensive from the beginning, but was unable to do much with Ryan, who used his clever left with good effect. For four rounds the fighting was tame, neither man being able to get in more than a light tap now and then. In the fifth round they mixed up in a manner that was interesting. The sixth round opened with Purtell very aggressive, Ryan came at him fiercely, landing lightly with his left on the face, Paddy crossed with his right, putting a hot one on Jimmy's jaw and the Cincinnati boy went into the dust. He was up in two seconds, however, and immediately put in another left hander, this time on the body. Purtell came back with his right and again Jimmy went down. This time he was down four seconds. He came up very groggy only to again run up against Purtell's right. Jimmy bit the dust for the third time and remained down while the time-keepers counted eight. He came up all right, but helpless. Purtell finished him with a heavy right on the jaw and he was counted out.

The Nallers finished their series with Jackson on Saturday by winning the most out of three. The visitors gave the most disgusting exhibition ever given by any visiting ball team in Wheeling. They started kicking in the early part of the game, and if their conduct for the rest of the game could be designated as kicking it would be putting it mildly. Indeed, there are times in all games when a captain of a team may protest a decision, but when a captain uses such tactics and behavior to win a game as Corcoran did, the diamond seeks to hide itself for shame. The Jacksons are good ball players, and it is their misfortune to bear the stigma of Saturday's game, cast upon them by Corcoran.

The trouble lay in that there was no official umpire. Baker and Fisher started out to umpire. The latter retired after a few innings. He tried to be fair, but was not alert enough or posted upon the technicalities of the game. He called Kane out after Shields caught his fly ball after it struck the fence. This decision also forced Robinson out, who had run home. The locals gave in to this because they were in a hurry to catch the train for Fort Wayne. Other decisions by Fisher were distasteful to Corcoran, and the latter kicked so disgracefully that Fisher, a Jackson player, refused to umpire longer. Enloe was substituted, with the intention of winning for Jackson by all means. He tried hard to do it. He called Wheeling players out every chance he got, and they were many. It seemed to be the policy of Jackson to delay the game, that of Wheeling to hurry it through. Therefore the Nallers, after a just protest, gave in to all of Enloe's judgments. That they won after that is to tell of how well they played.

Miller was easy all through the game. In the eighth the locals took a good lead, one, if Enloe was a little fair, they should have had earlier. In the ninth they pounded Miller for six runs. Then Corcoran went in the box, and threw the ball one minute over the batter's head, and the next to the outfield. This was to keep Wheeling from catching their train. The latter purposely went out. The Jacksons were in it at no stage of the game. Campbell was very effective, and had good support. There was an immense crowd present, it being Labor day, and all were loud in condemnation of Corcoran and Enloe. The score:

A FINE MEETING.

Atkinson, Doverer and Freer Spoke at Sistersville Saturday.

The Republican campaign opened in Tyler county, Saturday night, with a magnificent meeting in Olston's new opera house, Sistersville. R. L. Moore called the meeting to order and Charles N. Mathing acted as secretary. The house, including the galleries, was crowded, and many persons had to go away, as they could not even get standing room. The first speaker introduced was Hon. George W. Atkinson. He spoke an hour and fifteen minutes, making one of his old-time logical and eloquent speeches. He expounded to the extreme delight of the audience, every one of the Democratic theories advanced in this campaign.

The second speaker introduced was Captain B. B. Doverer. He stated in the commencement of his speech, that he was prepared with the written evidence to prove any and all assertions he might make. He also invited any in the audience to ask any question and on several occasions he was interrupted by questions from free silverites intended to confuse him, but the captain answered them to every one's satisfaction. He made a splendid speech, speaking for an hour and twenty-five minutes.

The next speaker introduced was Colonel Romeo H. Freer, candidate for judge of the Fourth judicial circuit. The judge spoke for a short time, for it was growing late, but he kept the audience delighted while he was on the stage.

The last speaker was Judge Chase, of Toledo, Ohio, but who has just returned from a campaign tour of the state of Maine. He says the enthusiasm for McKinley in Maine, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Michigan, is at fever heat and all of these states will give large Republican majorities in November.

The meeting lasted till after 11 o'clock and was one of the best ever held in Sistersville. It sounds the keynote for November. A large number of names

It bears a red, white and blue streamer bearing the names, "McKinley and Hobart."
